1. Educational Awareness Camp

Swarnamayee Charitable Trust describes an education initiative focused on children from poor and underprivileged backgrounds. The programme aimed to identify children facing barriers to education, arrange teaching support and help them return to school. The report states that more than 50 students who could not afford a mobile phone during the pandemic were supported and guided to restart their education. Books, notes and essential educational materials were also provided to some students.

2. Digital Education Training Programme

The trust describes digital education activities intended to help people in underprivileged communities understand the importance of digital tools in modern life. Areas mentioned include digital payment systems, access to government facilities, social-media communication and basic smartphone and desktop usage. The report also describes collaboration with computer institutes and computer-literate individuals.

3. Women Skill Training Programme

The organisation reports conducting tailoring training programmes under government schemes for unemployed people in different districts of Odisha. The report states that trainees were supported towards employment and that the organisation is seeking additional support to expand livelihood opportunities for rural youth.

4. Women Awareness and Sanitary Napkin Programme

This programme focuses on women's awareness and empowerment, with emphasis on women's ability to make decisions for themselves and awareness of rights and social participation.

5. Healthcare Support & Campaign

The trust describes community healthcare support including awareness of government free-medicine schemes, ambulance-related support for critical patients, health check-up camps in villages and awareness about health and wellbeing. The organisation also describes support from volunteers, doctors and institutions.

6. Cloth Distribution for Poor People

The report describes winter blanket distribution for patients and people living on the streets. It also mentions a Blanket Donation Campaign intended to provide warm blankets to underprivileged people in Khordha district.

7. Drinking Water Campaign

The drinking-water section highlights the importance of safe, sufficient and accessible water for personal and domestic use. The programme is presented as an awareness initiative around the importance of safe drinking water and hydration.

8. Food & Safety for Poor People

The trust describes food support for homeless, unattended and vulnerable people, as well as support for stray animals. The report states that food was provided in urban and semi-urban areas and that the organisation seeks support to create shelter spaces and provide continued assistance.

9. Blood Donation Camp

The report describes voluntary blood donation camps and explains the importance of maintaining adequate blood supplies for healthcare and emergency situations. It refers to pre-camp, camp and post-camp phases and promotes voluntary, non-remunerated blood donation.

10. Road Safety Awareness

The trust reports conducting awareness activities on traffic rules and road safety in selected townships, volunteering at major junctions and supporting disciplined traffic awareness near accident-prone locations. It also describes cooperation with street vendors near National and State Highways to promote safety.

11. Medicinal Plant Awareness Programme

The report describes a World Environment Day plantation event aimed at planting about 100 saplings in and around a school. Students, teachers and a forestry coordinator participated, and charts and banners were used to raise awareness about tree plantation.

12. Children Literacy Programme

The programme focuses on literacy and digital awareness among underprivileged communities. The report describes awareness about modern literacy systems, government facilities and social-media communication, along with basic smartphone and desktop usage.

13. Livelihood Support

The report states that the trust provided support to 12 needy families, including assistance to start small roadside businesses such as vegetable and tea stalls. It also seeks cooperation from individuals, institutions and corporates to reach more vulnerable people and support their livelihoods.
